

The business support environment consists of the numerous services for inputs, technical assistance, and financing which a business operator uses to produce and market their products. The support environment also includes licensing and inspection required by public agencies to insure worker safety, consumer health and minimal environmental hazards